BUILDINGS AND MONUMENTS,
MODERN AND MEDIÆVAL;
Being Illustrations of the Edifices of the Nineteenth Century, and of some of the Architectural Works of the Middle Ages.
By GEO. GODWIN, F.R.S.,
Fellow of the Institute of Architects, Corresponding Member of several Societies.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The bold and effective woodcuts which have now appeared for some years past in the weekly sheets of our excellent contemporary The Builder, must be familiar to all who are the least interested in architecture, if it were only from the show they make among their fellows of the 'Illustrated' press in the windows of the barrow-venders. It will, we are sure, be very acceptable to such as set a higher value upon these prints than the ephemeral pleasure they give on their first appearance, to have smooth and well printed impressions at a very moderate price. In the republication now before us, with the advantages of plump ink and thick paper, they assume a beauty which some persons will be scarcely prepared to expect, who are not fully aware of the great importance of good printing to wood engravings."—Gentleman's Magazine.

"This cheap and handsome re-issue of the principal cuts which have appeared from time to time in The Builder is an exceedingly useful addition to illustrated literature. We know that work is read and purchased by many who have no connection with 'building:' there are, however, a class who are not aware of the value or curiosity of the many engravings, and such persons will, no doubt, avail themselves of this handsome republication, printed on finer paper, and with greater care, and accompanied with a proper amount of descriptive letter-press."—Art Journal.

"A publication of much merit and interest. The articles are able and sensible, the engravings excellent."—The Literary Gazette.

"The idea of republishing in a separate and handsome form some of the best architectural subjects that have been given in The Builder was a good one. Besides being thus brought together within a comparatively small and convenient compass, separated from miscellaneous matter of only temporary interest,—the woodcuts are so greatly improved in appearance that they scarcely seem to be from the same blocks as before. The same illustrations, or the same number of them, could not have been brought out at the same price had not the blocks been already executed, and had they not served their purpose in a periodical having no centered aim."—The Athenæum.

"Unparalleled in the artistic world for cheapness as well as for utility and beauty of effect." "It is among the cheapest and the best works of the kind ever published."—The Observer.

"We regret to be so supported by the patronage, for it certainly affords, at a very moderate price, a greater quantity and variety of entertainment to the eye as well as to the mind than has hitherto been afforded by any popular architectural publication. It appears to us a judicious plan, illustrating new buildings, together with others of older date."—The Builder.

"This is a happy idea, most skilfully carried out. Fine printing, and in deep relief paper, gives a most charming effect to these vigorous and faithful illustrations of the edifices of the nineteenth century, and of some of the architectural works of the Middle Ages; and the work will thus worthily fill a place in general literature—for we have no popular book of consequence on modern architecture. Mediæval structures, moreover, have rarely been more effectively treated."—Worcestershire Chronicle.

"This may be briefly recorded as the best and most scientific treatise on a subject of great practical importance."—Lady's and Gentleman's Diary.
London: LONGMAN, BROWN, GREEN, and LONGMANS.

THE ART-JOURNAL: Monthly Journal of the Arts. Price Half-a-Crown Monthly. With the First of January, 1851, will be commenced a new volume of THE ART-JOURNAL, with such improvements as have been suggested by experience, the advanced intelligence of the age, and that augmented power which results from increased prosperity. The circulation of this Journal, during the past year, has approached 10,000 monthly: its conductors are consequently enabled to secure the co-operation of accomplished writers and eminent engravers, and as a result themselves of all the advantages which industry and capital may place at their command.

The Engravings from pictures by BRITISH ARTISTS, commencing the VERNON GALLERY, will be continued. Among the works on Sculpture will be several after the most eminent masters of Germany; and His Grace the Duke of Devonshire has been pleased to place at the disposal of the Editor, for engraving in the ART-JOURNAL, the whole of his Gallery of Sculpture at Chatsworth.

The Editor has also arranged in Germany for a series of Twenty-four drawings "Episodes in Life"—drawn expressly for the ART-JOURNAL, by Moritz Retzsch: these will be engraved on wood, of large size and in the highest style of Art; also for a series of illustrated articles on "Early Christian Art," from the pen and pencil of Professor Carl Heideloff, produced expressly for the ART-JOURNAL, the engravings to be on wood; and also for a series of twelve drawings of figures representing the "Cardinal Virtues," drawn expressly for the ART-JOURNAL by Professor Macha of Dusseldorf.

The ART-JOURNAL during the year 1851, will contain upwards of a Thousand Engravings on Wood, of the rarest, most beautiful, and most expressive, of the Works of Industry of all Nations, to be exhibited in London, in 1851: comprising a very extensive Illustrated Catalogue of the Great Collection of the Art of the World.

The ART-JOURNAL is therefore recommended to the visitor of the Artist; to the library of the Amateur; to the desk of the Student; to the workshop of the Manufacturer; and to the drawing-room table of the Admirer of Beautiful Productions.

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.—The ART-JOURNAL for the years 1848 and 1849 properly commenced a new series of that work.

With these Volumes it was enlarged in size and improved in character; and with the year 1848 began the "Vernon Gallery," a series of fine and original Engravings on steel.

New Subscribers, therefore, are informed that a complete series of the ART-JOURNAL may be obtained by procuring these two volumes. Each containing Twenty four Line Engravings of the "Vernon Gallery," and Twelve Engravings of Statues, on steel, with about Eight Hundred Engravings on wood, and may be had elegantly bound in cloth for One Guinea and a Half of any Bookseller in the Kingdom.

Publisher, GEORGE VIRTUE, 26, Ivy-lane, St. Paul's. Communications for the Editor must be addressed to Marlborough Chambers, 49, Pall-mall.
